NUMB. 5019

MONDAY, MAY 20, 1745.

our last arriv'd a Mail from Holland.

Venice, May 12.

According to our last Accounts from Lucca, Things have strangely changed their Aspect in Italy. The Duke of Modena had assured Count de Gages, as well as the Spanish Court, that the Army would find great Refreshments in the Mountains, which were every where strew'd with Villages; but those Villages were very thinly inhabited on the Approach of the Army, these Inhabitants were exposed to the Extremities of Hunger and Cold, so much that 6000 Sick have been already carried off, and 4000 deserted. Prince Lobkowitz takes some Pains to encourage the latter, by giving a Sequin to a Trooper, and Four to every Foot Soldier; but by this, and the Junction of the Austrian Detachments, Prince Lobkowitz's Army is increased to 40,000 Men. It is evident enough that the Scheme of these Officers is overturned; and that the Expence the Court of Spain has been at will scarce open a Passage this Year into Italy. By this unexpected Disappointment, a new Army has been created; for the Generals are no longer united with each other, but have each of them a separate Interest.

May 4. In Consequence of the March of the Neapolitan Troops, under the Duke of M. de Gages, from Montale, the first Column of about 8000 Men, arrived on the 25th at the Castle of Monte Alfonso to surrender; which, consisting of about 100 Croats, and 2000 Prisoners of War, having placed some of the Troops therein, and in the small Fort of both belonging to the Duchy of Modena, and on the 30th arrived at the Castle of Montale, and were received by the rest of the Army. On the 26th the Duke of Modena dispatched a Letter to that Republick, requesting the Passage, and the necessary Forage, for his Troops under his Command; promising that he would observe a very exact Discipline, and pay in Money for what they have Occasion. On the 27th the Republick sent the Chevalier Bernardini to the Duke of Modena and M. de Gages, who assured them, that pursuant to his Orders from the Court of Spain, his Troops were not in the least to disturb the Tranquillity of the Republick; and desired that the same should be returned to the Republick, in order to the Apprehension which they seemed to be under of the Government of Lucca, however, seems greatly affected on Account of that Army; inasmuch, that they mounted their Artillery on the Walls of that City, and introduced into it a large Number of their Troops. On the 1st Instant M. Silva, the Spanish and French Consul at Leghorn, arrived here with a Letter from M. de Gages to the Regency, containing his Orders already given to the Commissary of the City, to supply his Troops with Forage in the Country, and to demand a Passage for the Invalids, and the Escort from the Ecclesiastical State, to follow the Army. An extraordinary Council was summoned that Evening, in which it was resolved to grant M. de Gages's Request, but upon Condition, that the Invalids should pass by small Parties, and the same Evening M. Capponi, one of the Great Duke's Regents of Militia, wrote the Regency sent to carry their Answer to M. de Gages, with the same Result. Prince Lobkowitz remains with the Austrian Troops at Parma, detached from thence a Body of 3000 Men, under the Command of M. Gorani, who, by forced March, arrived on the 28th past in the Lunigiana, and giving extraordinary Encouragements to the Garisons of Aulla, Lavenza, &c. he himself Master of the important Passages and the Vallies of the River Magra, which lead by the Genesee State. On the 3d Inst. the Republick received an Express from the Governor of Pontremone, with Notice of the Arrival and Distribution of the Austrian Detachment in that District.

May 17. The French Troops that were at Besenigheim, Pfirtheim, and along the Entz, marched towards Canstadt on the Neckar, in the Neighbourhood of Stutgard, the Capital of the Duke of Wertemberg's Country; which alarms the Inhabitants inexpressibly. The Number of these Troops are at least 36,000 Men. We imagined the States of Germany would have been Gainers by M. Maillebois's being recalled; but Experience shews us the contrary. The Prince of Conti does what he pleases, without Ceremony, and without Excuse. He keeps the Elector of Mentz shut up, and all the People of Franckfort in a kind of Prison. When applied to, he speaks very courteously, lays the Blame on the Court of Vienna, but amends nothing. He reconnoitres the Allies every Day, but makes such Dispositions, as obliges us to be continually changing our Opinions. It is whispered here, that the Dyet of Election at Franckfort will be postponed for two Months.

Brussels, May 23. The Army continues encamped in Line of Battle, and receives every Day fresh Reinforcements. It is impossible to say positively when they will march again to attack the French, but it will not be long. As they are disposed at present, they cover all Flanders and Brabant, and disquiet the Enemy at the same time; who also lose vast Numbers of Men in carrying on the Siege. By that time they bring it near a Conclusion, it will have cost them (together with the Action) about 25,000 Men; and then we shall be more on a level with them. The Regiment of Waldeck behaved exceedingly well in that Engagement; and it is believed, if they had been thoroughly seconded, the Right Wing of the Enemy had been broke. Count Ksunitz has lately presented the Duchess of Aremberg with a Gold Snuff Box set with Diamonds, and other Curiosities, on the Part of the Queen, our Sovereign; notwithstanding it is reported, that his Highness the Duke of Aremberg has demanded, and received, Permission to lay down his Command of the Army on the Rhine.

Hague, May 25. By our Accounts from the Allied Army of the 23d Instant, it remained encamped at Lefines. Tho' we receive very few Particulars of the Progress of the Siege of Tournay, all Accounts seem to agree in general, that the Garrison continues to make a gallant Defence; and that the Ground the Besiegers have hitherto gained, has cost them dear. The freshest Advices from the Allied Army on the Rhine, report it to be at present encamped in an advantageous Position near Neuwied, where it is supposed it will wait the Arrival of Marshal Traun. The Duke of Aremberg has solicited, and obtained, his Demission of that Command, and will be succeeded therein by Count Bathiani.

FOREIGN PORT.

Elencour, May 18. N. S. The following Commanders are arriv'd; viz. Captain Thomas Hervey of Newcastle, from Wismer, bound for Gottenburgh; Captain John McCunn, of Glasgow, from Hamburg for Konigsburgh; and Capt. William Apleby of Whitby, from Bremen for Copenhagen. The latter, who pass'd the Scaw Yesterday, saw several Vessels, but could not discern who they were. It's reported that there are two French Privateers in the Scaw, who have taken an English Brigantine, supposed to be Captain Hervey, bound for Gottenburgh, who sail'd hence the 16th Instant.

HOME PORTS.

Deal, May 17. Wind S. W. blows hard. Arriv'd the Warren and Saltash Privateers from Falmouth, who have brought in two Prizes; one the Grand Duke, and other Name unknown; also the Swift Snow, Stevens, from East India, last from Plymouth; and the Expedition, Stracklum, from Oporto. Put back the Prince Frederick and Dragon Privateers, and remain with his Majesty's Ships the Duke and Fowey, and outward-bound as per last. Just arriv'd two Men of War, with a large Fleet of Ships, and several Prizes, from Plymouth.

Deal, May 18. Wind W. S. W. Yesterday arriv'd his Majesty's Ships Pearl and Bridgewater, and are fail'd for the River this Morning, with the Antigua Packet, Lemmy, from Antigua; the Ellis, Francis, and the Fly, Rickards, both from Falmouth; the Happy Couple, Jones, from Bristol; a Ship from St. Kitts, and a great many more; but the Wind blowing hard, cannot get their Names. Remain his Majesty's Ships the Duke and Fowey, with the Outward-bound as per last.

LONDON.

They write from Petersburg, that M. de Died, the Dutch Minister, had an Audience of her Imperial Majesty, and of the Grand Prince and Princess, on the 1st of this Month, and was received with all imaginable Testimonies of Affection and Esteem. The same Letters say, that the Count de Rosenberg having notified to the Court the Treaty concluded between the Queen of Hungary and the Elector of Bavaria, the Czarina had expressed the most cordial Satisfaction thereupon; and given his Excellency the strongest Assurances of her sincere Regard for the Queen, his Mistress.

We learn from Warsaw, that the Crown Army has received Orders to post itself in such a manner on the Frontiers of the Kingdom, as effectually to secure the Provinces bordering on Silesia, from being exposed to any Disadvantages from the Motions of the Prussians, in case they should be compelled by the Austrians and Saxons to abandon Silesia this Year, as they did Bohemia the last. It is also said, that the Partizans of King Stanislaus, who have lately held several Assemblies at Cracow, are extremely disconcerted by the News that is lately arrived from Germany.

According to Advices from Teshin, the Prussians have lately received a very severe Check in Silesia. It seems, they were transporting a grand Magazine from Jagerndorf to Newstadt, under an Escort of 500 Men; which was strack'd in its Passage by a Corps of Hussars, with so much Vigour, that they made themselves Masters of 200 Waggon, a vast Number of Horses, and left 300 of the Escort dead upon the Spot, with very inconsiderable Loss to themselves; and it is said we shall, by the next Mail, have a circumstantial Account of this Action.

The Marquis de Valori has informed his Prussian Majesty, by the Order of the Most Christian King, that from a just Sense, and grateful Acknowledgment of the Steadiness and Fidelity with which he has executed his Engagements to the Crown of France, he is willing to employ a Body of 20,000 Men for his Prussian Majesty's Service, wherever, against whom, and in what manner shall appear to him most convenient; and that he has nothing more to do, than to signify his Pleasure in this Respect to that Minister; and his Desires shall be immediately complied with.

Letters from Dresden inform us, that a Body of 400 Recruits, marching to the Prussian Army, had stopped at Crossen in Silesia, where they were to pass the Night. But a Corporal having taken some Occasion to beat one of these new-raised Men very severely, it provoked the rest to such a Degree, that they first kill'd the Corporal on the Spot, and then forcing the Gates of the Place, retired into the Saxon Territories, and offer'd to take Service amongst their Troops, which was rejected; but they were escorted into the Kingdom of Bohemia, and there had Passports.

They write from Paris, that, pursuant to his Most Christian Majesty's Order, the Archbishop had caused Te Deum to be solemnly performed on the 20th; at which all the Courts assist'd in Form, and the Artillery was discharged from the Bastille and the Invalids thrice; viz. at Four in the Morning, Five in the Afternoon, and at Nine at Night, when their Rejoicings ended. The same Letters add, that the Parliament had issued an Edict on the 18th, forbidding any Person to write or publish any Gazettes, News Letters, or A-la-Mains, on Pain of being whipt and banish'd for the first Offence, and sent to the Gallies for the second; which looks as if they had no News worth writing.

By Letters from the Camp before Lessines, dated May 23, we are informed, that a Person arrived there the Day before, from Tournay, with Dispatches for Prince Waldeck, importing, that the Governor did not at all despair of being able to defend the Citadel for a Fortnight or Three Weeks, notwithstanding the Enemy had carried on an Attack against it at the same time that they besieged the Town. This Man deserted from the Town with his Dispatches in his Shoes; and having stay'd one Day with the French, made a shift to get to the Camp of the Allies.

Advices from Oudenard say, that the Marshal Count de Saxe being extremely apprehensive of a second Visit from the Allies, and not being quite recovered from the Confusion in which he was put by their first, has fortified his Camp with Chevaux de Frize, Faisines, Redoubts, &c. that all the Approaches to it are actually impracticable. They likewise say, that Deserters unanimously report, that by a Mine sprung the 19th, Part of a Curtine was blown up, with a whole Battalion of French Troops lodg'd upon it.

His Majesty landed at Helvoet Sloys on the 23d, N. S. at Ten in the Morning; about Two o'Clock the same Day reach'd Rotterdam; pass'd by Utrecht at Half an Hour after Six in the Evening, in order to go and lie at Voorthuizen; from whence he proceeded the next Day to Bentheim, and was to reach Hanover on the 26th. His Majesty appeared in perfect Health, and not at all fatigued with his Journey when he came to Utrecht; and the People, as he pass'd, express'd their Affection for his Person, by all the Testimonies possible.

Last Saturday a Grant pass'd the Great Seal to Lord Glenorchy, of the Office of Master-Treasurer of his Majesty's Jewels, in the room of the Lord Abergavenny, deceased.

The same Day the Rev. Mr. Evans was Installed, with the usual Formality, as one of the Minor Canons of St. Peter's, Westminster, in the room of the Reverend Mr. Baker, deceased. There has not been an Installation of that Kind for 30 Years past.

Last Week a Gentleman's Servant was attack'd in Finsbury, near Kentish Town, and robb'd of 62 Guinea, eight Shillings in Silver, a 20 Pound Bank Note, a Silver Watch, and other Things of Value.

Last Friday died, at his House in Toley-street, Mr. Harper, an eminent Chemist.

To-morrow will be paid at the Pay-Office in Broad-street, the Short-Allowance Money due to the Company of his Majesty's Ship the Oxford, from the 16th of March, 1743, to the 29th of November, 1744; the Suffolk's Marines from the 15th of March, 1742, to the 24th of May, 1743; and the Berwick from the 10th of August, 1744, to the 28th of November following.

Yesterday Morning, about Four o'Clock, a Duel was fought in Spring Gardens, between two Officers in the Army; one of whom was dangerously wounded.

Last Saturday his Grace the Duke of Montague came to his House in Privy Garden, from Goodwood in Sussex, the Seat of his Grace the Duke of Richmond.

A Report having prevail'd, that the Fire which happen'd on Tuesday last began at Mr. Smith's, it's thought proper to acquaint the Publick that it is a Mistake, for it happen'd at Mr. Robert King's, a Sail Maker, next Door.
